»LATITUDE«

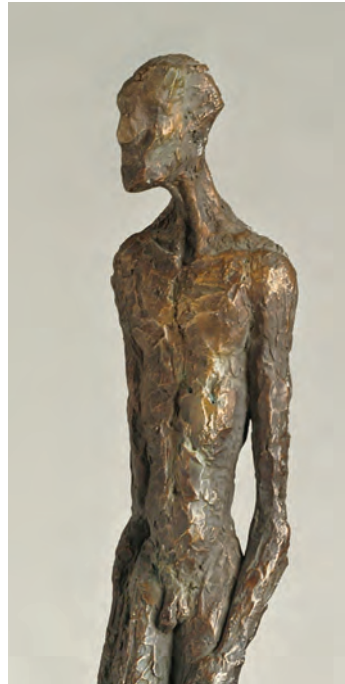

Demeter is the goddess of the harvest, of plenty and of social order. Like no other god she stands for the planning, structuring and cultivation of civil society. With a calm and steady gaze, she observes the clear surface and the straight lines of an unsown field.

Dionysus, the “liberator”, on the other hand, is the god of wine, music and dance; he is a friend of pleasure and sensuality. Together these two gods form the symbiosis that any creative process needs. With a balanced look they stand opposite each other, as if poised on an invisible weighing scale.
